Subject: (Eurofins Bioanalytics) Employer deeming our site "essential"
Date: Monday, March 23, 2020 10:30:47 AM

I work for Eurofins Bioanalytics. The Vice President of the company, Bo Kowalczyk sent an email last Friday labeled "eurofins deemed an essential business". In the email there is no explanation of why we are essential, instead he says it is obvious from the document he attached (<https://www.cisa.gov/publication/guidance-essential-critical-infrastructure-workforce>). He talks about how they are trying to get paperwork for people that commute from Illinois in case they are pulled over by police. My company is located in Weldon springs (st Charles) Missouri. There are eurofins sites in Europe and the US that have recently started COVID 19 testing which may provide a loop hole for calling all of eurofins essential. But my site is a clinical research facility that does testing for pharmaceutical companies on non infectious diseases. Many people commute to this site from Illinois or the city in my case. I do not feel my health is being considered. We are having employees work from home but anyone in the lab is not being told they have an option. We are spaced out but there are only two lab areas on site so we share restrooms and the lab areas (including the same machines). Our company does not produce or manufacture drugs. I don't see how we are essential.

We closed down our oxford site and the same Vice President brought over oxford employees from their site for transfer of assays last month. He tried to get them to stay longer putting financial needs over getting them home safely with less risk. I am sick of this negligence to employee safety and hope this has some kind of impact or at least gives me and my fellow employees a voice.

Furthermore, they have not talked about staggered shifts, shortened shifts, or vacation in case someone feels sick. I emailed HR last Friday directly asking about a plan in case of a shut down and they replied there was no plan in place currently. Managers are replying that they are not certain and to go to HR with questions. I have been asked to work longer shifts, I suspect because they are worried about a shut down. No one is taking initiative. Employees are scared to lose their job if they make this an issue. I would like to kindly ask to keep my anonymity, but for clarity I am a scientist II, going on 5 years with this company and started as a lab analyst.

Best,
Madeline Morrissey

Hi there,

Apparently there was a small wedding tonight (Sunday night) with at least 30-40 people at C. Oliver Coffee and Flower Bar in Maplewood, MO. Many people saw the gathering and saw people hugging, etc. There are negative reviews on the business's Facebook page due to the irresponsible nature of the event. I am personally very upset that this occurred so close to my home (also in Maplewood). I have included a screenshot of a comment made by one of the owners. The comment was on their public Facebook page for a while and was later deleted.

Thank you,

I'm a worker at Amazon Stl 8 St.Peters,I know it's to many people in building and some people are not social distancing, the building is not being clean as they say they are if someone can just sit in parking and investigate and see how many people touch the door handle and not being sanitized, they are not letting us know if someone has been infected, that is not how that should be done. We are not just picking, stowing, and packing essentials needs, I feel that they should lessen shifts and times and how many people that is allowed in building, how do Amazon have the right to have 200 or more people in one building when this is a state wide situation to stop the spread, this not fair to us and our families are the community.

Subject: Business Closure
Date: Sunday, March 29, 2020 5:26:42 AM

Hello,

I am an employee that works at AT&T in Earth City with about 150 employees. Our center is set up like a call center where we are all within close proximity of one another. Although, a lot of my coworkers have taken a leave provided by the company due to school closures. There are others who either don't have school age children or no kids at all that are still required to show up for work. They took a survey of who would like the option of working from home. Most of us said yes, but the company is dragging their feet for some but are moving forward for people they favor. I feel like the company is not taking COVID-19 very serious as we all should be working from home. Even though we may not have school age children or children at all we still have families to go home to. Everyday we report to work is another chance we are taking with our lives. There is one employee whose child was exposed to the virus at daycare but she was still required to report to work. Which means most of us that had contact with her are going crazy while waiting for the company to set up the work from home. Luckily she was finally sent home and assigned to work from home on Saturday. 7 to 10 days after her child had been exposed.

All managers were given 2hrs of training on how to set their teams up to work from home. Only 2 managers grasped the training as the others sit around doing nothing as if this isn't a serious matter. Even my 2nd line manager isn't taking this serious as he sits with his arms crossed. Last but not least the company gave out incentives for those who stayed at work and used that to make others come in to work. Bottom line AT&T does not care about their employees or their families nor COVID-19!

Thank you for your time.

Hello,

I read the article on KMOV about reporting businesses violating the stay at home orders. While Charter Communications does have the designation as a critical business, it's taking advantage of this. They are forcing thousands of employees and contractors into offices needlessly when the jobs can be done 100% remote. It makes sense for technicians to have to go onsite to keep people connected during this, but having developers and analyst with laptops and remote credentials continue to come into offices needlessly puts those employees, their families, and the community at risk.

When people that have been exposed and tested positive have come into the offices, they haven't closed them. They've taken their time to do the absolute bare minimum to allow social distancing. While they have started allowing some people to work remotely in a rotating basis, this is still an impotent policy. The people in the office still have to touch elevator buttons and ride with others, get their lunch from the shared refrigerators, get coffee from shared coffee pots and so on. All of this so that they can join a meeting with the person on the other side of the cube from their desk.

Experts and the governor have said that if you can work remotely, you should. Similar companies like AT&T, Comcast, and Verizon took steps weeks ago to safeguard their communities and employees but for some reason Charter has not caught on to the seriousness of the situation. Everyone that has to go in the office is scared, and helpless. If you don't do something to help them and others in similar situations, this curve will never be flattened.

To whom it may concern,

The Joann Fabric and Craft store in St. Peters is still open for in store sales as are the other Joann stores in the area. I felt I should report this as a family member of mine works there and says they are seeing a very large amount of customers at this time and there is NO social distancing being practiced. I am sure they can still maintain their “essential business” through online orders and curbside pickup without the risks of in store sales. I am very concerned for the employees who work at these stores and the customers ignoring this stay at home order and what it could mean for St. Louis during these uncertain times. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
Bridget Hoffert

Hello,

I would like to anonymously report my employer that won't close amid stay-at-home order. Name of the business is CDI Compi Distributors. Compi is a distributor and wholesaler of laminate, decorative wood, decorative hardware, light fixtures. They don't have a store and only sell to businesses. Owners are Jay Comparato and Lynn Comparato-Hill. They are located at 2855 Haag Rd, Arnold, MO 63010.

When stay-at-home order was issued owner deemed their business essential. Warehouse employees work in a close proximity to each other especially when doing a team project such as laminate lay ups. This makes social distancing impossible. Will call is still open so outside visitors are permitted. Yesterday (March 31st, 2020) one of the workers had a fever. Management did not disclose who it was but they did inform us about it. All of the warehouses and office were sanitized however employees were told to come to work the next day. We do not know who was in contact with a possible covid-positive person and nobody investigated this either. For all we know we all might have been in contact or used the same restroom. Only today we were finally offered masks and gloves. I do not feel safe going to work. Every day I'm scared that I'm putting my family in danger.

Please look into this.

Thank you.

Good afternoon,

I have family members who work for McBride and Son in the St. Louis area and are being told they are essential workers. They are part of the sales team that sells homes. They sit in displays and meet with the public daily.

Unfortunately, even with the stay in rules in place, people are STILL coming in to get home tours and meet with them. It's a revolving door that needs to be closed down to help flatten the curve. These are nonessential workers deemed so by St. Louis County. I called the hotline to make sure before sending this email to report McBride and Son.

There are 40 sales offices staffed Friday - Monday and still completely open to the public.

Please help to keep us all safe.

Thank you for all you are doing.

Good afternoon,

While returning home from work (a medical supplier deemed essential) I was disappointed and frustrated to find that many businesses which are NOT essential according to the recent "stay at home" order were open today.

This is dangerous. It puts employees in harm's way and encourages people who should stay home to go out.

PLEASE take action against these companies whose doors are open today:

Michael's Crafts - Brentwood Blvd
Micro Center - Brentwood Promenade
Mattress Firm - Brentwood Blvd
Fastsigns - Brentwood Blvd
Best Buy - Eager Rd

It's also disheartening to see larger national chains ignore the order and stay open, yet small local companies are closed in order to adhere to the order. How is it fair that a large company like Michael's is open, but local Artmart is closed and will feel the closure much more severely than Michael's!

This is a public health emergency. These selfish companies should be held accountable.

Date: Sunday, March 22, 2020 4:13:17 PM

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to you to ask for your assistance. I am a St. Louis County resident, and my husband works for Charter in Maryland Heights. Yesterday, upon hearing that you were requiring businesses to close in an attempt to protect our region and flatten the curve of COVID-19, I was so incredibly relieved. My husband performs a job at Charter that could be classified as “non-essential”. He can very easily perform his job from home, as can hundreds of other Charter employees that work in the corporate offices. Yet, he was informed today that he and all of the other employees that work in the St. Louis Charter office are expected to come into work unless they or their family has been affected by COVID-19.

I don't know if you're the correct person to contact about this matter, but this is reckless behavior, at this point. Charter employees are hundreds to a floor! They sit in cubicles just a few feet away from each other. THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE! The majority of these employees can easily perform their roles from home, and yet Charter refuses to allow them to do so!

I care about this for myriad reasons: I don't want to see St. Louis rocked by this virus in the way that we're seeing other regions annihilated by it— but I also care deeply about this personally because I'm an asthmatic, and I have two asthmatic children at home— one of which is only two years old and has been hospitalized TWICE for breathing issues. If my child catches this virus it could very well be deadly.

I understand that internet is vital right now. It's important in order for us to keep the education system running, and for people to have access to information, and conduct remote business, but THIS IS UNACCEPTABLE. Please do something!

Make Charter require that anyone who is able to work from home must do so. For the health and safety of our region!

I have attached the email they sent to employees today, regarding coming to work. Please take action on this matter immediately, if you're able.

(I would like to remain anonymous if you need to share this email with anyone. There was a Charter employee in Denver who was fired for speaking out on this matter, and my family can not afford to have my husband lose his job.)

Thanks,
Amber

Subject: Cheree Berry Paper
Date: Wednesday, March 25, 2020 10:17:02 AM

Hello,

I was hoping to contact you to get some advice about my workplace. I work in the Production Department at Cheree Berry Paper in Ladue. After the County's Stay-At-Home order came through, I thought that it would certainly apply to our company which designs and manufactures luxury stationery, wedding invitations, and event-related materials. Our owner explained that we're able to remain open because we provide "USPS shipping and mailing services."

Right now, we have very few jobs coming through. The Production department has received new schedules that have us coming in to take care of spring cleaning, organizing, and other assorted tasks to fill up our time now that we don't have client jobs to complete. We've expressed our concerns about the spread of the virus, and the necessity of coming in to work to complete those tasks that our own company normally would deem "non-essential" to our operations. The Production department is of a unified opinion that our company falls under the "non-essential" category of businesses, and we know that a legal loophole is being exploited. Many of us are also coming in to work sick. We share a building complex with other businesses which have all shuttered after the County order came through.

In order to create new work for us to do and to maintain profits during this time, we've been putting out a line of Coronavirus-related products. These include door-hangs, banners, signs, and things of that nature. Putting out these items means doing more deliveries and pickups outside of the office. We have multiple vendors (Shamrock on Hampton, Lander on Strassner, and Binding Solutions on Highland Park) that print and finish our materials for us. Our shipping person recently quit, so the Production department has taken over and is sharing the delivery and pickup responsibilities. We don't have gloves and we run out of disinfectant. We work in a confined attic space above the main offices. We aren't receiving hazard pay at this time. In a recent in-person meeting with our department head, we were told that we may be forced to take pay cuts soon. We aren't being given paid time off.

Our design department and upper management are mostly working from home right now. The Production department is still required to be on-site, though we're now sometimes allowed to take work home with us (part of an effort to reduce the amount of people working on-site at any given time). We were instructed to begin parking in the back of the building (an area that can't easily be seen by passersby), and to keep the lights off on the main floor offices to avoid attracting attention. The Production department is still doing deliveries and pickups. We ran out of disinfectant yesterday, and when my manager requested more disinfectant and some gloves (for opening packages), she was told that we wouldn't have gloves until sometime in April. This was discussed in an in-person meeting on Monday that included the owner. In that meeting, my manager expressed concern about me working on-site because I have asthma and I would be at increased risk if I was exposed to the virus. I was told that if I felt too scared to come in, that it was fine but that I would be going without pay. We are all salaried, full-time employees with full benefits.

I do believe and agree that many businesses that provide shipping and mailing services are indeed essential, especially during this time. I do not think our own business could reasonably be considered essential, however.

Thank you for reading this.

Date: Monday, March 30, 2020 7:01:27 PM

Good Evening. I am writing to you as a very concerned resident of Clayton. I am in the healthcare field and my husband is a physician as well. We are seeing first hand, in the hospitals, how bad this is getting here in Saint Louis. Yet, we still see groups of teens gathering in Shaw Park and many people on the tennis courts (in shaw park). Just over this past weekend the tennis courts were not only PACKED with friends playing tennis, but there was also a line of people waiting for courts to open up. This is not social distancing! This is NOT ok. The city finally closed these things down, why have we not done the same? This is how the spread continues. People in Clayton are not taking the "Stay at home" orders seriously. It's not merely a recommendation but a MANDATE and should be treated as such. I feel like the Clayton police should be patrolling and ticketing all these people who are clearly not following the order... those going for group walks with friends down Wydown road and the groups of teens that are continuing to gather in school playground areas and parks etc. Unfortunately people are not going to start taking this seriously until they are actually held responsible for their actions.

As healthcare workers, we are putting our lives at stake every day to help treat people in the hospitals. And coming home and seeing all these people acting like they are on an extended spring break or vacation really just angers me! I urge you to PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE start cracking down on this.

Thank you for your time.

I have a question regarding businesses being allowed to remain open during the Stay at Home Order.

I realize that essential businesses are staying open and to my understanding, they are providing some type of protection for their employees.

I understand that Milbradt Lawn Equipment is staying open, they do not provide lawn service, nor or they providing any protection for their employees (hand sanitizer, masks, etc).

Are they allowed to do this?

It's a small business that sells and services lawn equipment. I'm probably wrong, but it doesn't seem to be essential.

Lectro Engineering is requesting an exemption to remain operational during the St. Louis County “Stay at Home” order. We are in the supply chain for the manufacturing of plastic bottles and containers for the pharmaceutical, consumer chemical, and food and beverage markets. We also supply specialized plasma systems use in the manufacture of many medical devices used in the healthcare industry worldwide.

We have been notified by several customers that we are part of the critical supply chain. Amcor is the largest manufacturer of food and beverage containers in the world. Please see attached.

Snippets from Amcor’s letter below:

1. Amcor is an essential supplier of packaging products for the food, beverage, medical, healthcare and pharmaceutical industries.
 5. The legally binding nature of this designation has been expressly adopted by the Governor of California in his recent state-wide “shelter in place” order, and we are expecting this standard to be similarly endorsed as other states enact emergency orders.
- As a key supplier to our operations, you are therefore requested to continue in operation, to the maximum extent legally permissible and as requested by Amcor, in order to support our joint efforts.

Lectro Engineering Co. respectfully requests a written authorization from St. Louis County stating our company and its twenty-four employees are exempt from the ‘Stay at Home’ order for the purpose of their daily commute which may otherwise be viewed as a violation of that order.

Hello,

I am answering the incoming calls at the Fenton Precinct station. I have been receiving multiple calls questioning why two particular businesses are open. I've referred them to the link but that doesn't mean that they followed my instructions. Since everyone seems bent out of shape about these two businesses which happen to be completely different types of stores, I thought I would forward it myself.

The #1 complaint is about Michael's Craft Store, 129 Gravois Bluffs Plaza Dr., 63026. I can't think of any reason to explain to the callers as to why Michael's Crafts is essential. If they are exempt from the order, please give me the words to use.

#2 Dr. John's Lingerie, 504 Gravois, 63026. This business has a sign up that says "No more than 9 customers in the store at any time". Does that then exempt them from the order? I hadn't read anything that says that that is an option but there have been so many email coming from many different direction, that I may have missed that. If it's appropriate for them to stay open then please tell me and I'll explain it to the callers.

The third most popular complaint has been people playing basketball in Fenton City Park. But that has been rectified because Fenton Public Works took the hoops down and put up barricades to limit vehicle traffic to the park.

Thanks for any direction you can give.

Hi,

I work for a small local company as a dog groomer. I know that we are considered an essential business, as we are also a pet food store. I read online that essential businesses should cease all other activities. I'm concerned that grooming is a non essential part of the business, and I don't want my company or myself to get in trouble or reported for continuing to offer grooming services, as we will be coming into contact with the pets' owners and the pets themselves who can be carriers from what I understand. A lot of my clients are elderly as well. I think the owners feel like it is safe to continue the services because we offer grooming that is one dog at a time, and it is in a small private room. I would prefer to continue to work as I have bills I need to pay, but so does everyone else and I understand that it may not be in the public's best interest at this time. Petsmart and other companies have ceased their grooming services until further notice, and I'm concerned about losing my job for good if we are doing something illegal, so I just want some clarification because I don't want to be doing anything wrong.

Thank you for your time and for helping to keep the public safe.

I am a part of an equestrian facility that offers horse care and boarding. We know that we should be closed for public lessons and open for all horse care aspects. But we are unsure if we are allowed to be open for boarders to come out and ride their horses.

we have gotten mixed answers so far with everyone we've been able to get in contact with. Some say that it is under the outdoor recreational activities that are allowed during the order. but many lawyers and insurance companies are saying that we would not be covered if anything were to happen while someone is here during the stay-at-home order.

Would you be able to let me know what the law says about this and or put me in contact with somebody who would be able to clarify?

OK I READ THE EXECUTIVE ORDER NO 13 LIMITS ON PLACES OF PUBLIC ACCOMMODATION. CAN YOU TELL ME IN NUMBER 3 THE BAR DOES NOT HAVE PICK UP AND BEVERAGE AND BEVERAGE IS CONSUMED IN BAR ONLY, DOES THAT MEAN HE CAN NOT HAVE 10 PEOPLE IN THE BAR 6 FEET APART? THAT IS ALL I NEED TO KNOW. ITS CONFUSING.

NO ONE CAN ANSWERS THE PHONE AND OR REFERS ME TO THE ORDER THAT IS CONFUSING TO ME.

THANK YOU

Good afternoon,

David Purcell from Zoltek called to ask if STLCO could provide the company a letter stating they are in compliance with the county's Stay at Home order. As he outlined below, Zoltek believes they are essential. Mr. Purcell stated it would alleviate some of their employees worries if STLCO could provide such a letter although their legal team told him it wasn't necessary. He's just trying to do the right thing for his employees.

Is this something STLCO is willing to provide?

Many thanks.

Hi Marilyn,

Thank you for the follow up email below. It's good to know that the STLCO Counselor's office is not aware of any travel enforcement being conducted by St. Louis County. We still want to respect the order to stay at home, and we are doing so wherever possible, particular with our administrative functions and most HQ personnel in Bridgeton. I think there has been general concern from our employees in the plants that they may be violating the "stay at home" order if they are traveling to work.

For our manufacturing operations in St. Charles County (St. Peters, and Missouri Research Park), a significant number of our employees commute from St. Louis County, and we have communicated to them that Zoltek plans to keeping our factories running so that we can provide our customers the support they need during the COVID19 global crisis. Many of our customers provide essential products and services, including energy supply to utilities, aerospace and defense parts, and critical materials and components for telecommunications, oil & gas, construction, and health care. We have several measures in place to separate our employees in smaller groups and prevent overlaps in break areas, while administrative people and peripheral functions are working from home wherever possible.

Because we fall into the supply chain for many identified "essential businesses", this should allow our employees to follow the "essential travel" in Part J, #1 below. Please advise if we are misunderstanding anything here. We will continue to follow the updates on county's website in the meantime.

- I. "Essential Products and Services" means products and services that are necessary for Essential Activities, Essential Government Functions, Essential Infrastructure, Essential Travel, Essential Businesses, Minimum Basic Operations, or Healthcare Operations (including ancillary operations, maintenance, and support activities that are necessary to deliver the Essential Products and Services);
- J. "Essential Travel" means travel that is necessary to serve any of the following purposes:
- 1. travel related to Essential Activities, Essential Government Functions, Essential Infrastructure, Essential Travel, Essential Businesses, Minimum Basic Operations, or Healthcare Operations;
 - 2. travel to care for elderly, minors, dependents, persons with disabilities, or other vulnerable or High Risk people;
 - 3. travel to an Essential Business to purchase goods or services from the Essential Business;

Thanks,
Dave

St. Louis County Issues Warning Letters to Businesses Defying Order to Close

ST. LOUIS COUNTY (April 2, 2020) About 50 St. Louis County businesses that have continued to operate despite a public health order to close were mailed letters on Thursday warning them to shut their doors.

The types of businesses in violation of the order include nail salons, bookstores, craft stores, gyms, dine-in restaurants, beauty supply stores, bars and tanning salons. None of them are considered essential businesses under the public health stay-at-home order, which can be found at stlcorona.com.

Good evening,

I work for a company called Molly Maid in Crestwood, Mo. The company is still up and doing business as of today and I was curious if it is considered essential. What we do is basic housekeeping for residents in St. Louis County and a little outside the county line.

My concern is that we are in customer's houses mostly with customers and their family home (even more so now because of the stay-at-home order), going from one house to another and sitting in a car for an upwards of 45 min with 1 or 2 other coworkers driving to houses. My other concern is if they are not considered essential, I do not want to risk getting a misdemeanor because my employer told me to come in to work.

And the company unlike many other warehouse productions companies are running two shifts 5 days a week. One employee went home home sick and had not been back to work since she went home with a fever and sweating. Another employee has been sent home twice and the last time he left by Ambulance. True enough we are in a ware house but we also stop and get gas. Food some of leave go home to check on our kids. There is nothing essential about a swimming suit right now it's people dying people getting sick delivery people bringing food and there sick. The job is going to tell you that they give us Lysol wipes hand sanitizer and face mask that they won't even that the time out to teach us how to wear properly. It's over 90 people in the building during one shift at a time. It's 15 are more people in the break room at one time we are not shipping any thing that can help any body are family at this time this is a selfish company that needs to be closed during this time Thank you...

My wife is a graphic designer for a company called K Hall Studios/K Hall Design. The company sells candles and other scented boutique products. They are trying to argue that since they sell hand sanitizer they can stay open, but they don't have any supply of hand sanitizer on hand and won't until midway through April. They sell surface cleaner, but it isn't certified for disinfecting anything. They have a warehouse on site with at least 10-15 workers and then an office area with 10 more people. The company has made no attempt to prepare any possibility for people to work from home, while the owner spent all last week in Florida on a vacation and expressly told them they can't work from home. The owner is keeping everyone in the dark about what he wants and I'm sure he doesn't care at all about what business is considered essential.

Subject: Local company exploiting loopholes in their "essential" status
Date: Friday, April 3, 2020 10:14:46 AM

Good Morning,

I wanted to express some concerns to you about a local business. Hoffmann Brothers is an HVAC company that also offers plumbing, electrical, and appliance services. They are considered to be an essential business. However, at least 80% of the "service" calls they are currently running are non-emergency calls. They have forced their staff to make outgoing calls to schedule a/c and furnace "maintenances" on WORKING systems. Some of these systems were even installed in 2019. They have even forced their office staff to work overtime hours to do so. They have also required employees to cold call people to get them to sign up for a discounted "electrical inspection" in order to keep their electricians running calls. Just to clarify again, there is nothing wrong with the electric in people's homes, they just want to do inspections on homes that aren't actively having any issues in order to make money for the company.

They are doing this to keep the business operating and financially sound, but at the risk of their technicians who are driving all over the city and multiple counties, entering people's homes and businesses to do non-emergency jobs. These technicians are not equipped with masks. They are exploiting their essential status and putting both their customers and technicians at risk.

I have a friend who works at this company and he feels like he is being put in constant danger but is afraid to speak up for fear of losing his job. If you are really serious about people taking every precaution to avoid the spread of the coronavirus, then you should be addressing this company and others like them that are exploiting the "essential" loophole to do non-essential work.

Sincerely,

Ben Hendren

People are still using Carwashes. How is that essential how is the outside of your vehicle essential to keeping a wash only Carwash opened?

How is businesses selling lottery tickets essential in anyway? People are violating the stay at home order and going out and buying lottery tickets. This puts themselves and especially the "essential workers" at risk because they just want to play their lottery.

I find this inexcusable and a violation of the essential business order. The essential businesses are there sell essential needs not essential wants that are not essential.

I work in a gas station and lottery sales are what most people come in to buy. Who is protecting us? Greedy lottery and business owners who won't shut down those particular sales are putting Myself and my employees at risk including the defiant customers who just have to play their numbers. If this is truly a stay at home order then stop the Carwash sales and the lottery sales that are tempting people to come out of their house and violate these orders.

Do not use my email address in any type of publication. I will lose my job and I need my paycheck. But I dont need to get sick because people want to ignore what a true essential need is.

I was in over the weekend purchasing some cleaning supplies, and the place was packed with customers buying everything but essential items. Flowers, paint, and flooring projects are hardly essential. They have the ability to go curbside with their online platform, but choose not to. Instead, they are a virtual "indoor park" for hundreds of people to gather en masse, as everything in town closes around them. They are creating a Venus for folks to pass the time, and spread germs to everyone else, including their workers. Home Depot's, and the Lowe's of the world need to utilize their online platforms only to be able to supply the loophole essential items that are allowing them to remain open causing harm to our citizens.

Hello I work for a flooring company . That is Strictly a flooring so there isn't much hardware involved. Even though my store is no longer open to the public I still don't believe its essential for myself or others to be there. I understand I can take it upon myself to take leave due to COVID 19 virus , but if I do so I will not be compensated for it. It almost feels like I'm choosing between my health and my job. Although they provide latex gloves , hand sanitizer and other disinfectants. I still don't see no reason to be there. I understand that the 10 person rule applies to social gatherings and events , but I still have to interact with co-workers who may or may not be COVID 19 positive. I simply just want to help slow down the spread but at the same time know I'm compensated and can take care of bills with out feeling like I'm choosing between health and compensation . What should I do?

Date: Thursday, April 2, 2020 3:54:03 PM

To whom it may concern,

I am emailing about a concern I have regarding a business called no leash needed that operates 4 locations 3 of which are in st louis county. They are a day camp and boarding facility. They also offer dog training. I don't agree with but can understand that they can be considered "essential" because of their boarding and day camp functions but I do feel that something should be done regarding the training aspect of the business. Training is not an essential during these trying times. People can clearly have their dogs trained after this has calmed down. I am sending this email because my wife is one of those trainers that is being out in harm's way by being forced to work during this covid-19 outbreak. She is scared and doesn't wish to be at work right now. Her work originally gave her "quarantine" time that she was able to take an unpaid leave until they feel safe to return. She just received a call telling her that she is no longer allowed to stay at home after only 4 days. They are telling her she has to come back to work after the virus has clearly gotten worse with no explanation as to why. I hope something can please be done ASAP to stop this business from putting non essential employees in harm's way. I do not want my wife becoming ill and possibly losing her life over something so dangerous and easily avoidable. Her work also has one of the strictest sick leave policies I have ever seen. Because of this they have employees coming to work ALL the time sick because they are afraid of being fired. If anything can be done I greatly appreciate it. I fear for my wife's life and health.

Thank you

I feel that gyms and their tanning solans closed, as well as other corporate tanning salons have closed, that this too should close. It is not an essential business, he is just trying to make money. I know the beds are not being cleaned thoroughly, due to they never are. If this virus can live in plastic for up to three days, I feel he is putting others at risk.

Hello.

I'm writing this today in an effort to stay ANONYMOUS to the company I'm reporting.

Michaels, an arts and crafts retailer, has been fighting very hard to stay open. They were ordered to shut down in the area but were able to reopen by claiming themselves as an essential business.

An essential business, especially during such a rampant outbreak of COVID-19, is characterized as a business whose infrastructure is critical even during the most worrisome of times.

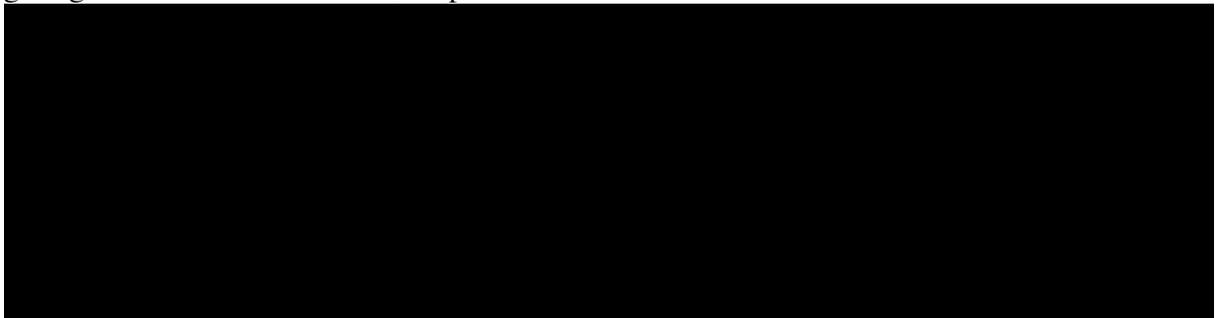

Grocery stores, because they sell food. USPS, because we need mail communications.

Doctors, because we need medical providers.

Michaels sells yarn and paint.

They claim to be for parents homeschooling children, but they sell zero educational supplies.

Nor do they advertise for such. They claim to be a fulfillment operation and changed to curbside pickup, but please keep in mind that they are serving dozens and dozens of people daily. There's no way to hand someone their bag of yarn and coloring books while maintaining the required distance of 6 feet. There should be no loopholes to climb through; they should be able to assess the fact that they are not an essential business, and should close down temporarily and allow their retail workers to avoid constant customer interaction. Their corporate team sent a notice saying they were working from home. So tell me why a team of people who normally work in an office in cubicles can self isolate, but the retail facing employees can't? They have told their employees experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 that a positive test must be presented to be excused, knowing tests are limited and hard to acquire. They are not keeping the team stocked on cleaning supplies. Their team is fearful of losing their jobs permanently by openly speaking out, hence the anonymous email. We love our job, but can't continue risking our health during a rapidly growing and developing virus outbreak to supply non essential items like scrapbooking supplies and potted fake foliage. Please, we are begging you, close us down temporarily. At least until the order in St. Louis is lifted, or even just for a mandatory couple weeks at bare minimum. We have children, families, our health to worry about. We don't need to be on the frontline alongside the brave people like doctors/nurses/police, we don't sell items that require us to be open like the brave grocery store workers. We are NON ESSENTIAL and we are SCARED. We are packing a high amount of curbside orders daily to hand to strangers so they have their coloring books during their self quarantine. Bacteria remains on objects for anywhere from a day to upwards of a week. Our germs, on their products, getting placed in their hands, that they're taking home and giving to their children. Please, help us.

- Employers that do not currently offer sick leave to some or all of their employees may want to draft non-punitive “emergency sick leave” policies.
- Employers should not require a positive COVID-19 test result or a healthcare provider’s note for employees who are sick to validate their illness, qualify for sick leave, or to return to work. Healthcare provider offices and medical facilities may be extremely busy and not able to provide such documentation in a timely manner.

I already submitted the form online, but I wanted to bring it up as often as possible.

I have a friend who works for AT&T retail, and he's being forced to work. They closed his location, as well as four others in the area, but AT&T corporate just sent ALL of those employees to another retail location on Elm Park Dr. They had 17 employees in the store at the same time.

He was able to secure two weeks off through his direct bosses after concerns he was higher risk. But his two weeks is almost up, and the retail store is still open.

All of AT&T's stores should be CLOSED. They were deemed essential by Homeland Security, but that should NOT include their retail locations. Everything they do in store can be done online, except same day cell phone sales. All they do in store is cell phone sales, service sales for cell phone, internet, and TV, and bill pay. They don't fix phones or billing issues; they have to direct all of those issues to the AT&T customer service hotline. Literally ALL they do is sell, which can be done ONLINE.

They are putting the public, their employees, and their employees families at risk! Please make them shut down!

Re: Executive Order Violation

Potential Violator: St. Louis Tag Co., 3201 Laclede Station Road, Maplewood, MO 63143, Owner: Bob Berenholz

To Whom it May Concern:

I have a relative working for a commercial tag business which they, and their coworkers believe is nonessential.

The owner has told the staff of 19, he has no intention of closing, "unless the government forces him to." His justifications are: that the business could, and has, produced orders for government and medical services in the past, and that he's heard other print shops are staying open using similar loopholes. In fact, they are producing retail work.

The staff has been instructed to tell police that they work for an essential business, should they be stopped.

These people are living in fear for themselves, their families, and their jobs. Many are isolating themselves when at home, as their families are complying with the stay-at-home order.

The owner has been approached by several employees with their concerns about the unavailability of childcare, pre-existing health issues, elderly relatives at home, etc., but has made jokes and dismissed their concerns.

He has also made a point to tell them he won't be applying for any stimulus, and basically, they won't qualify for anything, because he's remaining open. They can use whatever vacation they have if they feel strongly about it, but that would be 14 days maximum.

The shop has remained open Monday through Friday, with employees on the premises from 6am-4pm.

I don't know if his actions are illegal, but I do know they are unconscionable, and they are causing many good people tremendous anxiety.

If the business is indeed nonessential, it should be closed. His employees, their families, and our community deserve more consideration.

Thank you,
A concerned citizen

The Face Shop, 14246 Manchester Road, Manchester, MO sells makeup/cosmetics. It is a non-essential business that has continued to operate daily despite the Order to close.

She has posted a sign of her new hours Saturdays and Sundays, because she says the County doesn't work on the weekends, therefore they won't catch her violating the law.

She continues to perform makeup applications on customers, where there is very close face-to-face contact (12-inches distance)... the opposite of social distancing. There are many customers in her store (a small area)... the opposite of social distancing. She uses the same makeup products over and over from customer to customer without sanitizing the packaging.

She purchased two boxes of masks and sells the masks individually as a way circumvent the Order. She never sold masks before, and is using the masks to be a fake essential business.

Blatant disregard for the severity of the virus.

To whom It may concern:

Loy Lange Box Company (Manufacturing) located at 1700 Kosciusko St., St. Louis, MO 63104 is still operating with 20+ people in full operation M-F and not using any precautions as far as 6ft. Distancing (as requested Nationwide).

ALL warehouse workers share 1 bathroom for males, 1 for females which is in deplorable conditions which is very much susceptible for the Covid-19 Virus.

Scott Copeland and Frank Makowski are Managers in charge but not the actual owners. Please Assist with a follow up of this company.

The quicker we all do our part, act responsibly and comply, the less havoc there will be on everyone's livelihood.

Thank you for your diligence and protection of our community. We are lucky to have you!

Hi, It has been brought to my attention CR Metal Products is a non-essential business but are still running as usual. I hear there are no extra precautions being take and the employees come in contact with each other regularly, over 100 people. This does not seem safe and I feel they should be told to shut down. Thank you so much.

I was surprised to find today that our company will not be closing during the outbreak. We do not produce anything in regards to "essential" products. Our company exclusively produces parts for sprinkler systems. My boss has made it very clear that we will be staying open because they can not afford the loss in revenue. However our manufacturing floor does not practice "social distancing" and I am worried that we will all get infected.

I work at Omni Landcare Inc. I might be wrong, but as much as I want to keep bringing in a paycheck, I don't think landscaping is essential during a time of crisis. I just don't think the lives of people around me, including potentially myself or my loved ones are worth 15.50 an hour and a freshly mulched garden bed and pruned boxwoods. Please keep my submission anonymous. I want people to not lose their lives, not to permanently lose my job.

Nature of Violation:

According to the policy this line of bussiness is essential only if working from home is not available. We could all work from home but are not allowed.

Location of violation:

Sunset hill, MO

Date of Violation:

4/2/20

Breach Continuing:

Additional Info:

Only a few people are getting to work from home but these people then are also made to come in the office twice a week. We could all work from home but not allowed. We were told 5 more people would get to start working from home last week but that never happened. We have several older people with health issues, employees who are lacking childcare and have been told they will lose their job if there not here. Hawthorn needs to be more responsible and allow all employees to work from home. Every function of our jobs are do able from home. Again medical billing company is only essential if working from home is not available and it is!

All stores were closed nationwide due to the epidemic. Monday March 30, 2 local stores were told to reopen to the public as "essential".

Location of violation:

1215 S. Kirkwood Road & 4162 Elm Park Drive

Date of Violation:

March 30

Breach Continuing:

Yes

Additional Info:

The retailer closed all stores nationwide on March 23 - March 28. The decision to reopen on March 30 was relayed to employees late Sunday afternoon March 29. Unless ordered by law enforcement in person at each location, they intend to remain open to the public. They are allowing only 10 customers at a time into the store. But have provided only plastic sheeting barriers at the checkout points and gloves as protection for its employees at risk.

Company Business Type:

Compi is a distributor and wholesaler of laminate, decorative wood, decorative hardware, light fixtures. They don't have a store and only sell to businesses.

Nature of Violation:

When stay-at-home order was issued owner deemed their business essential. Warehouse employees work in a close proximity to each other especially when doing a team project such as laminate lay ups. This makes social distancing impossible. Will call is still open so outside visitors are permitted.

Breach Continuing:

Yes

Additional Info:

On March 31st, 2020 one of the workers had a fever. Management did not disclose who it was but they did inform us about it. All of the warehouses and office were sanitized however employees were told to come to work the next day. We do not know who was in contact with a possible covid-positive person and nobody investigated this either. For all we know we all might have been in contact or used the same restroom. Only today we were finally offered masks and gloves. I do not feel safe going to work. Every day I'm scared that I'm putting my family in danger.

Additional Info:

On March 23rd 2020 I came to work and there were 10 to 12 employees there no one was practicing social distancing they have sent an email out that we are prohibited to using Lysol only as much as she deems fit. I was in my work area and a co-worker came completely over in my area without being 6 feet away from me I was wearing a mask and gloves matter fact I'm the only person who wears a mask and glove in this location. The president miss Angela Johnson does not have someone who goes through the office on a daily basis and wipe everything down and make sure everything is clean we are limited to what we can use as cleaning and disinfecting supplies and we were limited to how we can use it because of her own personal reasons of stating that people have respiratory issues and the Lysol use need to Holt which I'd no understand that when it is told that Lysol prevents disrespect reading as long as you clean your area and that is what we were trying to do but we were prohibited to do so as much as needed. The company is not an essential job it has nothing to do with food or health or medical none of the above and I find it to be very disrespectful and in responsible for us to be open to infect each other.

they are a non essential business and people are flocking to golf courses.

People will continue to make poor choices and overfill golf courses until they are closed. There is absolutely no reason they should be open. They are contributing to the spread of covid19.

Lowe's is a home improvement that is still open to the public for essential items. However, the traffic within the store has doubled since the "stay at home" order has been issued for St Louis County. Shoppers are purchasing non-essential items such as, paint, flooring, mulch, pavers, and gardening supplies. Shoppers comment they are buying for home improvements. I understand that a refrigerator, stove, washer or dryer are essential items that could be ordered online and be picked up curbside. Lowe's seems to be proud of the fact that they are selling so much home improvement items. They are even having a "Summer Black Friday Sale" Friday, 4/3/20 to get more shoppers in the store.

Additional Info:

Office is suppose to be shut down due to corona virus being spread, this office is open daily and someone is here in the office in and out taking new orders and having someone here everyday to take new payments and soliciting phone calls to people to have a storage unit rented. Should not be open on my opinion there is no reason to have someone there at all times to get a paycheck for themselves and to have new storage units rented. Keypad being touched daily along with office being open along with door handles spreading germs and the virus. The gate should be left open so people do not have to do this. It is a closed gate which makes people use the keypad and doors to get into the gate. They keep the gate open during the day but then office hours close and the gates close. To prevent the virus, gates could be open all night and day so the keypad don't have to be touched. The office should be closed to prevent spreading. There's a person that's there all day long pretty much no reason but keeping the office making money. Calling people to come into the business to pay bills.

While essential business Charter has many departments that can successfully work from home however they are mandating employees continue to come into office. I have worked from home for two weeks and we are being REQUIRED to come in next week to work in an office with 50+ people for jobs we're all capable of and have been doing from home. There's literally no reason for us to be in the office, it's reckless and careless of our management. I'm afraid to return.

Again I understand they're considered essential but I stress that we have and had have the capabilities to work from home. They've made it clear even if you have kids they need you to find child care which is dangerous and business closed. A resident in my home had symptoms and was sent home by a doctor and Charter required I, possibly carrying, still come into office. I do not trust them to do the right thing.

Jordan Finder and I share joint custody of our two children. We have been trading the kids every Friday so we each have them for 7 days. Jordan Finder disclosed to me that she doesn't want to be alone in self-quarantine so instead of obeying the stay at home order, she has been traveling across state to stay with her brother, mom, and nephew in Springfield, MO on her days with the kids. Her brother has also made multiple social media posts questioning the validity of the COVID-19 pandemic, which further proves that she and her family are not taking the stay at home order seriously. I am concerned that her travel, since it is completely unnecessary, and involves contact with other people who aren't taking social distancing seriously increases the risks of them spreading it.

Nature of Violation:

There where 2-3 people that got sick back on March 25 those people where sent home . Killark has not said if those people where tested or if they are positive got the virus Killark sent a hand full of employees home for 2 weeks with pay but not everyone there are 3 shifts in this building. Those 3 sick employees are still out so are all the others for 2 weeks. Killark offered all other employees 2 weeks out with pay if they where concerned about the virus. Killark shit the plant down on March 25 to bomb cleaning the plant. On Monday some employees wanted to use their 2 weeks paid time off cause of the concern of the virus in the building but now Killark took that offer off the table and now there is another employee that has been exposed to a tested positive family member and Killark is just telling people to not touch that are for 72 hours and you will be fine . Killark is not emplementing the safe distance on the floor with all machines employees still have to stay at their stations the only time safe distance is used is at breaks and lunch, and if you want to clean your are you have to go ask for a Clorox wipe they will only give you one . Killark is now telling the employees if you leave it is without pay and also the only way to leave is if you get sick and is also telling employees they need to get a Dr note. Killark is only concerned about money not the people. This company has 3 shifts so you don't know how it is being cleared or handled in the evening and the employees still do not know about the outcome of the first sick employees.

Nature of Violation:

My ex-husband (named above) had electrical workers present at his home on March 23-25 and on March 30-31. This work was non-essential. My children have also reported that their father continues to go into work as he prefers to not work at home. He also traveled to a resort outside of Rolla (Sugartree) with our children where they mingled with other families. He even attempted to allow our children to bring a friend but the parents declined the invite.

Location of violation:

11 Fair Oaks 63124

Date of Violation:

March 23-April 1

Breach Continuing:

Yes

Additional Info:

After a conversation with my ex husband, Rich George, this morning, I am very concerned about our children either contracting or becoming carriers of Covid 19. We split custody 50/50. Rich believes it is not a big deal to have workers in his home '(they are not in the same room)", visitors or go in to work because he and the kids are not high-risk. However, I am at higher risk and his decisions are putting me, other family members and the community at risk. He said to me "the stay home order makes sense for people who are compromised, but not me or the kids".

The warehouse consists of metal racking, cardboard boxes and paper for days. This is a breeding ground for this virus. They even have people there currently installing carpet and painting walls. There was about 20 of them yesterday. All of those people gathered in one place. There's no way to know if one of them is sick or carrying the virus. This abuse continues each and every day. They are still sending their drivers out into harm's way. It's all about the money. They talk about social distancing but it's not practiced. They are not an essential business but still continue to get away with it on a daily basis.

We are a non essential business. The company always says how its important to have clean stores that people want to shop in because hobby lobby doesn't carry anything people need. They have been deemed non essential in many states and counties across the country just google it. This includes Jefferson County MO location in Arnold at 30 Arnold Park Mall Dr, Arnold, MO. The Jefferson County Health Dept served the cease and desist orders already. Hobby Lobby is trying to twist the narrative to fit their agenda, get as much sales as possible and capitalize on people being home and bored. Hobby Lobby will try to say they sell educational supplies for kids but this is a very small % of their product assortment. Please, please, please look into this and see if they fit your description of essential business.

Thanks for your response.

No, I reviewed the order and residential landscaping is not listed on the stay at home order for St. Louis County. Could you please site where residential landscaping is exempted? I would understand lawn care or maintenance that may be needed during the order, but not ornamental or non-essential work.

This is not maintenance or essential work, and has turned into a week long driveway replacement also, which I suppose could be exempted based on "construction services";.

But this seems to go against the intent of the order(to limit community spread of virus) and the intent of the exemptions (intended to allow essential maintenance).

As well, the crew is not following social distancing by any means. They are working close together, not wearing masks or any protection. Multiple crew coming and going.

We all need to do our part, not enable people to get around the order and allow them to potentially continue to spread the virus.

Thanks,
John

Hi,

The neighbors have contractor crew in multiple vehicles over performing decorative yard work (installing a fountain and removing a sidewalk).

Please help keep our community safe and enforce the stay at home order.

Thanks

Nature of Violation:

Our department supervisor notified employees that Sunnen is considered an essential business, due to the company being a manufacturer of various supplies, for military , medical etc. However, not all departments make these products, and several employees in the company (some long tenured) have stated that they never have manufactured or rarely see any of these alleged products.

Nature of Violation:

I don't feel we are an essential business, any new jobs we get takes 6 months to fill. When the stay was put in place they had a meeting telling employees they would remain open because they feel they are Essential, and if it came down to it and I quote " we will tell them we make windows for hospitals" followed by "well we weren't told we weren't essential". There is no maintenance crew and nothing being done to make sure the place stays clean and sanitized. Nothing making sure the employees health is being put first. Someone got sent home today for 5 days because he said he was running a fever over the weekend of 103 but no temp now, he came to work with another employee who was allowed to stay at work. They ride together daily. If quarantine is suppose to be 14/15 days why only send them home for 5? One guy got sent home for 5 days last week for coughing and is back to work. We were told anyone who voluntarily stays home for the 30 day stay we will lose all benefits and a lot of us are high risk due to age and underline health issues.

They are putting everyone at risk that works here out of greed. Not following any cleaning Procedures not have the supplies to keep the place sanitized. Half the people I work with don't even wash their hands after using the bathroom and I'm suppose to believe they wash their hands after coughing, sneezing or touching their faces?

Additional Info:

Witnessed over multiple days repeated violations of the one person per cart as there were easily 20 carts both with two people on them riding all over this property. I have photos from multiple days confirming this and also witnesses a cart dropped off by two golfers.. sat there 15 minutes and new group came and rode away - was never wiped down or cleaned between uses as the course claims it is doing. Parking lot was packed and very likely way over 10 people in the building at any given time based on the flow of people.

Additional Info:

Owners were searching for excuses to be able to stay open. Attempting to identify any items in their inventory that could be used for health related needs. Their primary sales are still 100% hobby and craft supplies, puzzles, rc cars, and toys.

They are putting their employees and customers at risk even running "curb-side" services. This is not contact-less service like other stores are offering. Employees are expected to take products to customer's cars to let customers see the products before they buy. They are also having to handle customers credit cards, cash, and change. Employees do not have proper protective equipment (no gloves, no masks, limited hand sanitizer).

Remaining open to the public despite being a "non-essential" business.

Location of violation:

Fenton (as well as all Barnes and Nobles- West County, Ladue, Chesterfield & Mid Rivers)

Date of Violation:

3/23/2020

Breach Continuing:

Yes

Additional Info:

I really am just trying to figure out if bookstores are counted as essential. Because if they are NOT essential someone needs to do something. The Barnes and Noble in Fenton (as well as all Barnes & Nobles in the area) is claiming they are essential under "media" because of the newstand rack in the store but now the company has halted all shipping of newstand product company wide. So even under what they are claiming makes them essential they are not. And the issue here is that people are still going in there and not adhering to the County Executive's order of keeping a distance. One night we were even told by a customer that his daughter had to get tested and he probably has Covid-19 too but that he refuses to stay inside because "I'm just not gonna do that". People are ignoring the County Executive's order and St. Louis city Mayor Krewson's order and going into that store (and all Barnes and Nobles) and putting other customers and all my co-workers at risk.

Please. We're just trying to get clarity and help flatten the curve on this so that we can get over it sooner and we can all go back to work without fear of getting it or even worse, getting it and transmitting it to loved ones whom we live with and who ARE very immune deficient.

Joann claims it is "essential" because it sells fabric people are using to make masks for healthcare providers. But fabric is easily available online and locally at Walmart. And the other big-box craft stores and fabric stores in St. Louis County have respected STL County's directive and have closed: Michaels, Hobby Lobby, Jackman's Fabrics are all closed. Joann's greedy cash grab is endangering its customers, employees, and the whole region. This disgrace is corporate policy nationwide: <https://www.businessinsider.com/joann-fabrics-employees-stores-remain-open-coronavirus-2020-3>. Locally, the Riverfront Times investigated a few days ago: <https://www.riverfronttimes.com/newsblog/2020/03/24/is-joann-fabrics-really-offering-face-mask-sewing-kits> (I'm not an employee of any of the stores I have named. I am a hobby seamstress who was a frequent and happy Joann customer. I'm now disgusted.)

Additional Info:

Stores are permitted to be open under "Pet Grocery Store" for curbside pickup of dog food, however, they are using this loophole to continue to provide the NON-ESSENTIAL service of pet grooming. Any emergency pet grooming can be done by a veterinarian, but routine grooming provided at such places as Treats Unleashed are purely for vanity sake and is not considered essential. Illness can be transferred from pets (via kissing, petting, cuddling etc) making this extremely negligent on Treats Unleashed behalf.

Similar retail/grooming corporations such as Petsmart and Petco have closed down their grooming sections while remaining open for retail in compliance with this order.

There was an instructor who needed to self quarantine for 14 days the week prior because of possible exposure who also attended and has been in the gym multiple times. This is a huge risk and blatant disregard to the community. He is a business owner that is very well known to the community setting a terrible example and potentially putting many others at harm. I do hope this is taken seriously due to the risk to the entire community.

Company in Violation:

Treats Unleashed

Employee:

No

Company Contact:

Company Business Type:

Pet Bakery and Boutique with in store grooming services

Nature of Violation:

May remain open to sell pet food as "pet grocery store", but in store grooming services are considered NON ESSENTIAL and must cease in compliance with current stay at home order

Location of violation:

All Treats Unleashed Locations

Date of Violation:

Currently ongoing

Breach Continuing:

Yes

Additional Info:

Business is allowed to remain open for sale of pet food (Under "pet grocery store" with curbside pickup) HOWEVER the company is abusing this loophole to continue the Non- Essential service of pet grooming (bathing and hair cuts). Any emergency grooming can be done by a veterinarian, grooming solely for vanity is non-essential and puts many people at risk as illness can be transferred via handling of dogs (kissing, petting, cuddling etc). All other corporations such as Petsmart and Petco who are remaining open as retailers have closed their grooming facilities in compliance with the order, Treats Unleashed is aware of this and continues to offer the non essential service throughout all of their locations.

Company Business Type:

Delivery: picking up and dropping off boxes. Delivering empty unused supply boxes. Delivering non essential files. Emptying shred bins.

Nature of Violation:

This is a Non Essential business and they are sending their drivers out into these places and they have nothing to do with medical supplies or equipment or food for stores or restaurants. A lot of the places that the drivers go to have had cases to come up concerning the virus. They are using the fact that we deliver non emergency charts at times to different departments throughout a facility as essential but in the meantime are keeping other deliveries in the cycle that have absolutely nothing to do with the order put in place. It's a cover up to continue to function. This is the reason why the virus continues to spread because of acts like this. Jobs are violating the rules. They're making up their own rules and are not complying.

Additional Info:

On Friday 03/20/2020 the Fulfillment manager Matt Wilson held a meeting stating that Super Bright LEDs was a non essential company and that we would shut down if the state or county shut down. We were told we would get an email or text about work when this happened. He said we would continue to get paid. On Saturday 03/21/2020 it was announced that St. Louis city and county would shut down all non essential business starting Monday. The business has remained open and we had a meeting on Monday 03/23/2020 and were told that now we were an essential company contrary to what we were told on Friday. Our manager has continued holding meetings where he tells us lies about the Coronavirus trying to make us feel safe at work. He says this is just like the flu and it is here to stay so we need to get used to it. They have provided gloves and masks but only a few use the items. Social distancing is not enforced. People who feel sick or have gone home have been told not to talk to any employees about why they are calling in or leaving. I feel our manager is only worried about money and cares zero about the employees. It's just another day at the office with Super Bright LEDs.

Bookstore - retail

Nature of Violation:

To whom it may concern,
I just wanted to get a little clarification on what types of retail stores are included in "essential" and what are included in "non-essential".

I work for Barnes and Noble at the Fenton location. I am technically part time there but I do work close to 30 hours a week. We have been told by our regional managers and higher ups (as have all other St. Louis city and county Barnes and Nobles), that as a bookstore we qualify as essential because we are "media", despite the fact that we only sell newspapers and magazines and do not actually manufacture them. And as such we are required to keep our doors open to the public.

Many of us at our store (I can not speak for other locations in the area) are uneasy about continuing to be open to the public as we are. Now, if we do not fit in the "non-essential" category then we obviously will continue to report to work even though we are concerned. But if we are non-essential then I do wonder why our company continues to leave us open, especially since they closed all the Kansas City stores while they have virtually the same order in place there as we do here in St. Louis City and St. Louis County.

I am a little worried that I could get in trouble from the higher ups in my company for asking this and potentially getting them in trouble but I just wanted to get some clarification. We are not getting much from higher management. Even our store manager is being kept somewhat in the dark and being forced to keep doors open.

Any clarification on this subject would be very appreciated.

Thank you

Additional Info:

I work for a company called Molly Maid in Crestwood, Mo. The company is still up and doing business as of today and I was curious if it is considered essential. What we do is basic housekeeping for residents in St. Louis County and a little outside the county line.

My concern is that we are in customer's houses mostly with customers and their family home (even more so now because of the stay-at-home order), going from one house to another and sitting in a car for an upwards of 45 min with 1 or 2 other coworkers driving to houses. My other concern is if they are not considered essential, I do not want to risk getting a misdemeanor because my employer told me to come in to work.

Thank you so much for your time

Additional Info:

Hi there, I have been for walks around Blackburn Park in Webster Groves daily. I have seen numerous people gathering in tennis and baseball courts, violating orders not to use them at parks. I also saw a large gathering of family and friends today at one of the park pagodas- about 20 people. I know this is not business related, but have been concerned as this is happened for several days (even after the order not to use courts) and didn't know where else to report. Thanks so much for all of your service to the community.

Additional Info:
My company is remaining open during the stay at home order. They are not an essential business. They closed our retail store location but are keeping the warehouse open and continuing to take online orders. We sell board games, magic the gathering, dungeons & dragons, etc. We all touch the same bins our pullers put orders in. Packers share scanners that scan barcodes to print out invoice receipts. The shippers have to touch all the packages that the packers have touched. We all use the same computers to clock in and out . Proper sanitation of these things is not being practiced. We have older adults working with us, we have kids at home and vulnerable family members. I would understand if we sold food, cleaning supplies, medicine, etc but we sell games. Please be our advocate and investigate this. Please keep my report anonymous from my employer because I fear retaliation for reporting this.

Company Contact:
Jim West
JimWest.OPs@equifax.com

Company Business Type:

St. Louis offices of Equifax do not engage in Credit Reporting. That is done in Atlanta. Here, we are customer service (call center) for Equifax Workforce Solutions, other products that offer alternative Workforce data to businesses. (employment dates, W-2, employment documents) although our services are very convenient for our clients and greatly affect their ability to do businesses quickly, they are not essential or mandatory simply a convenient product for our client which makes Equifax a lot of money.

Nature of Violation:

I'd like to remain anonymous unless necessary. Equifax is considering us to be an essential financial institution (which we are not), disallowing work from home access to agents like myself who previously had access to do so. I have emails which show that because our network/server is unprepared to handle the change everyone cannot work from home. If the network could handle it, we wouldnt be in the office. I feel there should be work in place to make that available but the company wont budge. They may claim the issue is that we can see Personal Info (Social Security Number) on occasions. We have IT/account managers and QA personnel with the same if not more access currently working from home and working from home full time before Corona, so that is a poor excuse.

Additional Info:

Equifax has three offices in St. Louis, two of which (Lackland, Ball Dr.) have evacuated and allowed all members to work from home. I work in the call center (cash cow) here in Earth City where hundreds of us are being forced to come in without the option to work remote. Most of management has chosen to work form home. Almost all of us have laptops and they have been disconnected for use at home last week out of fear our network would crash. A multi million dollar company should be able to take care of that.

Additional Info:

A stay at home order was issued for St Louis counties at 12:01 am Monday morning however, the company floor and decor is still open to workers but not to the public. People can still come in and pick up orders and shop online and pick up orders but cannot return them. This is Strictly a flooring company and is not at all essential. They are completely overlooking the stay at home order. Even though employees can take leave on their own if so we will not be compensated , compensation only comes from working and I feel as if my job is making me choose between my health and my Job. Overall there is no reason for anyone to be there because this is not a essential business. I was also told through via text this buisness is not going to close unless someone absolutely makes them.

Claiming to be an essential business as part of the Healthcare industry even though all non-life threatening surgeries have been postponed.

They notified employees today of their essential status and when employees inquired what part of this site was essential leadership stated that technically nothing at their site was essential.

They have not enacted any additional cleaning measures.

No extra cleaning stations and no additional hand sanitizers. While all employees are expected to use the same time clock to enter their information on the same keypad twice a day. The leadership in the building have made it clear they are not taking the virus seriously and have stated they feel this is all an overreaction.

Two weeks ago the site was put on mandatory overtime including 10 hour days and 8 hours on Saturday. When they enacted the mandatory overtime they also changed the attendance policy.

Previously the policy was that if you had sick/vacation time available you were not pointed for any absence. They changed the policy to say that even if you have this time available you must use it and you will still be pointed.

If anyone in the building were to contract the virus, there is absolutely no way to avoid a spread in this environment. I have concerns because I am forced to go to work every day in this environment and I have 2 high risk children at home.

I have a question concerning a previously scheduled appointment with a pest control business. My appointment, for both an interior and exterior routine termite inspection, was for Saturday, March 28. I called the company earlier today, March 23, to inquire whether it was still conducting business with the public following issuance of restricted business activity for the foreseeable future in St Louis County. I was informed that the company was still, in fact, honoring prior appointments and would continue to do so for the anticipated future. Is this type of business authorized to continue to operate under the newly-issued commercial guidelines issued by St Louis County? Thank you in advance.

Dear St. Louis County,

I'm writing with a concern for the health of the employees of a company called Labels Direct at 664 Trade Center Blvd., Chesterfield, MO 63005. My daughter works there, they are not allowing their workers to be safe according to the COVID19 mandate. Please keep this anonymous as she is afraid she will lose her job and be fired.

I understand that they are not following any of the safety protocols put in place, including social distancing, disinfecting, still allowing community food, etc. They are also having people come into the office for interviews and requiring the other employees to sit in on the interviews, not knowing who or where these interviewees are or have been.

Please send someone to investigate this company as I am concerned about the health of my daughter and those folks they come in contact with.

This company has provided a letter to their employees stating that they are deemed an essential business and will remain open. I have attached a copy of that letter.

Please let me know what can and should be done in this situation.

Thank you for your concern and for taking action.

Sincerely,

Bethany Ray

Are "wealth management" companies considered as "banks" and thus allowed to continue operating under the "essential" allowance? Seems like healthcare workers, first responders, truck drivers, pharmacists...are much more "essential" than financial advisors.

Also if a company has the full ability & capacity for employee's to work remotely, but refuses to allow it & continues to require employee's to report daily to the office inside a multi-office corporate building...is there are kind of violation occurring?

I, personally, believe that there are SO VERY MANY businesses in which the guise of "essential" is questionable and while employee's could and should work from home, management is refusing to allow it.

Just curious if there is any violation taking place in these situations or if anyone is looking into this. Does the "essential" category ever get reevaluated and narrowed accordingly? This would certainly keep MANY more people safe at home.

Many thanks,
Deidre Jones

Subject: Question about business that are "essential"
Date: Thursday, April 2, 2020 8:34:54 PM

Hi,

Concerned Citizen and St. Louis County Worker. I work at a sign shop and I am wondering if and how we would be considered essential. No where in the "stay at home order" does it say sign shop or companies help make signs for other companies? I Asked my boss about concerns about all issues involved with this. One I have a question about how a company is deemed essential my bosses just said they were? Two I am also concerned with social distancing yes most of the time we do have only 6-8 people in the front part of shop but sometimes the others in back come up 2-4 depending on situations questions on jobs etc. then if we have a customer or two come in and then the postman delivered the mail we had 16-18 people in a large area but by the front two desks there was 6-7 guys standing around and they were shoulder to shoulder?? There was also a job the other day that there was 3 of us fixing a letter on front large table and I was holding one part and two others hold the other side of course you hit hands and were rubbing up against each other fixing the item this happens daily in all aspects of sign making! Also need to know how offend are we supposed to clean all areas of our shop, front counter, restrooms and any other used are like back area where microwave, refrigerator and coffee pots are? I know they are only cleaned once a day in the evening and I know it is not a good cleaning it's just a quick spray down job, the floors are Still dirty and sinks still have dirt stains from the day before. I also have questions about if I leave and go home due to concerns, I loose all benefits, I would not get unemployment because I left correct?? I know by law if I say I am going to care for my children they cannot say no correct? They said I can leave and would not be punished or loose my job but if I wanted to I should use my vacation? I don't want to use it I don't think this is a vacation it's a nation emergency! I asked about the new law passed at the federal level my wife is working full time From home now and will be for the duration of this, we have two kids in 3rd and 6th grade and I was wondering if the new law would allow me to go home and protect me so I can do home school and her not neglect her work and children by doing both at 50 % and hurt both? I need help and need to talk to someone I don't want to abuse anything or be a crutch but I also don't want to hurt my family health wise and financially but know that will be effected somehow during this and understand that. Let me know how to handle this? I don't want to give my name yet I just need some direction on how to handle this thank you a concerned citizen from 63128 working in 63131

Subject: Question about essential business
Date: Monday, March 23, 2020 10:32:57 AM

Hello,

I apologize to be bothering you with this as I'm sure you are being flooded, however I'd appreciate it if someone could answer my question about whether my employer is an essential business or not. It seems we are in a sort of grey area and no one knows for sure!

I work for an ecommerce company called especial needs. They are an online retailer specializing in toys and goods for children with disabilities. We sell mostly toys, diapers and car seats. I can't really determine if we fall under the essential business category. The closest I can figure is that we do sell canes and some wheelchairs which may count as home medical equipment.

Again, sorry, but it is really bothering me that no one including my boss can give me a straight answer about whether we are violating the order or not.

Thanks
Sarah

Subject: Question: Is the place I work "Essential"
Date: Monday, March 23, 2020 11:26:32 AM

Hello,

I have a question about the place I work. I work for a company that is a distributor of finishing supplies, mainly paint and stain. They sell mostly to contractors who refinish people's kitchen cabinets or floors. They also sell directly to the public when they come in the store. This doesn't seem "essential" to me, however my boss thinks it is. I am afraid to go to work and risk being exposed to Coronavirus. Could you please tell me if this is an essential or non-essential place of business?

Thank you for your help.

Good Afternoon,

I called the Missouri Governor office and they are not mandating that a bar not serving food can be open if 10 or fewer people are evenly spaced. She then referred me to call the local municipality of Bridgeton, and then bridgeton referred me to call St. Louis County for their guidelines for essential businesses to be open.

Can you please advise if a bar in the St. Louis County area of Bridgeton be open if they do not serve food and have 10 or fewer people evenly spaced be open"

Thank you for your time,

Hi there,

Apparently there was a small wedding tonight (Sunday night) with at least 30-40 people at C. Oliver Coffee and Flower Bar in Maplewood, MO. Many people saw the gathering and saw people hugging, etc. There are negative reviews on the business's Facebook page due to the irresponsible nature of the event. I am personally very upset that this occurred so close to my home (also in Maplewood). I have included a screenshot of a comment made by one of the owners. The comment was on their public Facebook page for a while and was later deleted.

Thank you,

Kate Nevins

I was under the assumption that auto plaza Breckenridge is a non essential business that should be closed? The service department clement automotive connected to the dealership is not open to the public because they do not have a business license to operate legally. So am I wrong to assume that both businesses should be closed because of the order from St. Louis county for non essential business to not be open at this time? Thank you for responding back I think people's health is more important during this time but I might confused on the order from St. Louis county??

I am not sure if they are violating that is what I am asking. Basically what it is we have technicians that go into customers homes and install alarm systems they probably see at least two different customers a day. Then we have service technicians that go into 5-9 homes a day to service their alarms for various reason. In our office there is at least 11 managers and 7 administration. Technicians do come in and out of our office also for various reasons like getting parts and paperwork.

Thank you,

Some simply cannot provide our personal information due to our employment status.

It doesn't seem that St. Louis County Government is taking this seriously enough, therefore creating an even larger risk to it's citizens
